"Katy provided a fresh new perspective on women & innovation. Her use of improvisational tools as a means for improving one's creative thinking was delivered with great energy and comical brilliance. Katy's demonstration on the value of working outside of one's comfort zone & taking risks was especially enlightening to the group. She's really tapped into an area that could use some more exploration and benefit women in all lines of business."

-Mindy Lauck, Events Committee Co-Chair
GE Women's Network

"Katy McEwen was excellent to work with. She brings a balanced understanding of comedy and corporate expectations to the event. Katy's humor on stage is very enjoyable to watch. When involved with improv, she was able to capture our understanding and take it to a comedic level that surpassed our expectations. I would invite Katy back again for the design and delivery of another program."

-Valerie Howard, Manufacturing Learning Center Manager
Thomson Corporation

"When one talks about Katie McEwen one should use these words to describe her: flexible, spontaneous, creative, and downright hilarious. I've had the privilege to work with Katie McEwen on a couple of occasions in the corporate arena. Katie adapted her style very easily in our corporate environment, which could be somewhat challenging considering that she is a comic actor and writer. But she was able to do it and she did it perfectly. I've since recommended Katie and her team to other colleagues in the organization. It would be a pleasure to work with her again."

-Mary Anderson, Management Development Program Manager
Thomson Corporation

"Thank you Katy for your leadership and insights. I have to say that your group helped make it one of the best company meetings that I've attended since I started working on-staff for Atomic Learning. You guys created a day that was both fun and totally relevant to where Atomic Learning needs to be going now ... THANKS!

-Jody Ouradnik, Content Developer and Lesson Accelerator Project Manager
Atomic Learning, Inc.

"Katy's program was dynamic. She is an extremely creative, talented and gifted writer and comedian. I especially enjoyed watching how she performed totally impromptu scenarios. Her message about how critical an open mind is when brainstorming ideas is relevant and practical for any and all work and problem solving situations. She really drove home the point how people can learn to work together as long as they remain open to any and all ideas. Her impromptu exercises involving the audience can help break down barriers that we all put up when faced with something new or different."
